

Conclusion

Before the introduction of modern European architecture and imported building materials, the Ijaw people built their houses to meet their social, cultural and religious needs with locally available materials. But, many young ones who are denied of this building technology in the present generation are homeless due to the high cost of modern conventional building materials. Hence the only way out is to create an exposition of this building technology.

Reference

1. Burningham, K. and D. Thresh, Exemplar: The Environment Concerns of Disadvantaged Groups. In: Researching Social Life, Gilbert, N. (Ed.). 2nd Edn., Sage Publications Ltd., London, pp: 173-183. 2001.
2. Cronin, A., Focus Groups. In: Researching Social Life, Gilbert, N. (Ed.). 2nd Edn., Sage Publications Ltd., London, pp: 164-177. 2001.
3. Foster J. S. & Greeno, R. Structure and fabric part 1. New York: Routledge, Taylor& Francis 2006.
4. Feingold, E. and J. Wasser, Walk-through surveys for child labor. Am. J. Ind. Med., 26: 803-807. 2007.
5. Gokila .C, Gladish .T, Jenny .R.P.J, Merrin .P, Rigy .T, and Silpa .J. Mud House Technology. International Journal of Emerging Technology and Advanced Engineering. Volume 5, Issue 12, December 2015.
6. NPC Census Population Census Report. National Population Commission, Abuja 2015 .
7. Oluyemi A. A, Abiodun K. E, Devine O. E, Peter O. A, Opaminola N. D. Socio-Economic Implications of Recurrent Flooding On Women Development In Southern Ijaw Local Government Area, Bayelsa State, Niger Delta Area Of Nigeria. Journal of Geoscience and Environment Protection, 4, 33-46 2016.
8. Online Nigeria. Nigerian traditional architecture. from http://www.onlinenigeria.com/finance/?url=660&_ga=2vEAaAQfk Retrieved on 21, December 2015
9. Tamakuro A, and Japo O. A. Improving Durability of Rural Buildings in Riverine Niger Delta Region: A Case Study on Need to Utilize Appropriate Technology. International Journal of African Society, Cultures and Traditions. Vol.4, No.1, pp.17-43. 2016.